Greetings,

On February 9th 2007, we had the first social of the Spring Semester. It was held in Campus Club. The main attraction was Chinese stir fry. The turnout was according to our expectations. The continued popularity of the event and the good turnout is encouraging for programming.

GAPSA will host the first tax workshop on March 21st Wednesday between 10:00am to 11:30pm at CMU 303. As this is the first time that GAPSA is doing it, we need to get the word out for this event. I would appreciate it if each assembly member could spread the word about it in your respective college councils.

On March 30th our second social will be a bowling night in which guests and especially kids will be welcome.

In the next 1 month I plan to have first round of informal meetings with different council representatives to co-ordinate the events in the Appreciation Week. Regarding the preparations for the Appreciation week some councils have informed me of their events while for some other councils their events are still in the planning stage. I encourage you to keep me informed as your plans progress.

Thank you,
